

Huat Heng Engineering Pte Ltd ----- established in 1969 as a partnership company is one of the pioneers in switchboard manufacturers in Singapore supplying to the HDB projects in the early 70's.

We are one of the first few local companies to successfully achieve internationally recognized, ASTA Type Test Certifications for LT Switchboards ranging from 1000 to 6000 ampere which enables us to participate in many projects both local and worldwide.

Our technologically advanced range of power distribution switchboards is widely acclaimed in almost all manufacturing, process and telecoms industries, to name a few such as:

- * Banks
- * Data Centers
- * Shopping Centers
- * Schools
- * Condominiums
- * Private Bungalows
- * Hospitals
- * Commercial Factories
- * Clean Rooms

Our highly talented and dedicated team of engineers and designers are capable of designing and developing a wide variety of panels including Control panels, MCCS, Synchronising Panels, Temporary Supply Panels, Transformer Panels, Capacitor Banks, Meter Panels, etc.

Our services include Service and Maintenance and Upgrading of switchboards, modification of panels, testing and commissioning, including infra-red thermal scanning, etc. Our exceptional services reputation allows us to undertake many unique and complex projects.

With our full range of in-house facilities which include using CNC machines for shearing, bending, turret punching, powder coating system and all kinds of testing equipment to conduct stringent tests and inspections, we ensure that our clients get safe and quality assured products.

No system or process is too small, too large, too old or too new for us to handle. We have close working relationships with many of our vendors to enhance our ability to provide technical support in an emergency situation or just to meet your daily requirements.

We realized and acknowledge that our relation to the customer is a continued effort even after the system is up and running. Many of our customers are on 24/7 operations and we are there to support them no matter what time of day or night!
